

Where is your career going next?

Do you want to get on in the hospitality industry?

Have you ever thought of taking your qualifications a step further?

'The Foundation Degree in Culinary Skills and Kitchen Management is better than any other qualification at this level in the Hospitality industry'

(External Examiner's Report 2008
Worcester College of Technology)

That's right, you can achieve this nationally recognised qualification right on your doorstep, delivered by Worcester College of Technology in partnership with the University of Worcester. And it's not as daunting as you might expect.

What is a Foundation Degree?

A two year, part-time programme of study

Leads to a nationally-recognised qualification

A stepping stone to a full degree programme

Will help develop your career in the kitchen or hospitality management

Allows you to use the knowledge and skills you have accumulated in industry

Equips you with practical, transferable and up-to-date skills of immediate use at work
